

The Top 5

Tools for Learning English

ITEM #1

The Best Tool for Learning Vocabulary—Anki

Anki is a smart flashcard program. Every day, for about 10 minutes, you review old words and learn new ones.

If you forget a word, Anki will show it to you again today until you remember. If you remember the word, Anki will show it to you again in the future, depending on how easy it is. Click here for more info.

ITEM #2

Listen to Any Radio Station in the World for Free—TuneIn

Listening to local radio stations is one of the best ways to practice your listening skills, learn about the culture, and get introduced to new songs. You can also listen to sports broadcasts, talk shows, or music stations. All you need is an internet connection. Click here for more info.

ITEM #3

Find a Language Exchange Partner and Get Free English Classes—Verbling

Verbling allows you to easily chat with someone for 5 minutes in your language, then 5 minutes in their language. If you like them, you can add them as a friend and continue chatting or speak to them later. Verbling also has free live classes every hour on Google Hangouts on different topics. Click here for more info.

ITEM #4

Improve Your Listening Skills with a Fun and Interactive Game—Lyrics Training

Lyrics Training is a game where you listen to music and try to fill in the blanks of the lyrics. There are three levels, beginner, intermediate and advanced, making it easy for learners of all levels. Click here for more info.

ITEM #5

Have Your Writing Corrected for Free—italki

Italki is also a language exchange program like Verbling, but it also is a great tool to help you improve your writing. Italki gives you a notebook where you can write an English and then other people from the community will correct it. You can also read other English learner's notebooks, or correct notebooks for people learning your own language. Click here for more info.