

University Teaching in Istanbul, Turkey

We are recruiting instructors for the Fall and Spring 2019-2020 semesters

The Kadir Has University School of Foreign Languages (SFL) is looking to hire motivated, qualified and experienced ELT and EAP professionals who are native speakers of English to teach in the preparatory and freshman English programs.

The English Preparatory Program of SFL provides intensive language instruction aiming to bring students to a B2 level of English, and the Academic English Support Program of SFL provides 4 consecutive for credit EAP classes using a content based language learning methodology aiming to progressively improve the English skills of these students to enable them to independently research, present and write in English at the levels required for their English medium academic programs.

Native English applicants are expected to have at least a BA diploma in a related field and a Cambridge Certificate of Teaching English (CELTA or equivalent) or a Master's degree relevant to English language teaching and at least 2 years of experience teaching ELT and/or EAP at tertiary level. Additional teaching experience in courses or programs related to language learning would be considered a plus.

The salary is competitive based on experience and qualifications, and instructors are provided with good conditions and private health insurance.

Applicants should send an email to: Ms. Çiğdem Taşkiran
Email: cigdem.taskiran@khas.edu.tr

The application should include:

- A cover letter detailing your qualifications and skills as they relate to the position
- An up-to-date curriculum vitae and the names and contact information for at least three references
- A statement of teaching philosophy (maximum 2 pages)
