

1. NO POVERTY

Kadir Has University actively contributes to eradicating poverty through both social engagement and academic research. Student teams collaborated with the Basic Needs Association (TİDER) to support municipal food banks in Şişli and Beyoğlu, receiving training on urban poverty and food waste before volunteering in daily operations. Faculty-led TÜBİTAK 3501 research explored cooperation under resource scarcity, and publications addressed sustainable income support policies in Türkiye. In addition, initiatives like the Zorlu PSM Theatre Workshop provided free professional training to aspiring artists from disadvantaged backgrounds, promoting cultural participation and social inclusion.

1.1. Events

The Psychological Origins of Cooperation¹ was supported by a training activity conducted within the Faculty of Art and Design, Theatre Department through the Zorlu PSM Workshop, held between 10 January and 31 May 2023. The program featured expert instructors Serdar Biliş, Özlem Hemiş, and Özlem Özhabes, and targeted writers, directors, and producers who applied as scholarship recipients. Offered free of charge, the PSM Workshop aims to introduce new talents to the theatre and enrich original content.²
